A Fine Lot Of Prizes

The committee in charge of the Redmen's Masquerade ball next Monday evening are certainly doing themselves proud in the fine line of prizes. There are eighteen different prizes in all, any one of which is worth going after, and are offered for the best dressed, the most gorgeous, the best two step-pers, the best waltzers, the best cake walkers, the best sustained characters and the most comical. Of course there are two prizes for each event—one for the lady and one for the gentleman. The prizes are on exhibition in the windows of the Wrangell Drug Co.

The Nome Gold Digger was sold at public auction October 3rd, to Thomas R. White for the sum of $2,525.

The steamship Humboldt will be laid off for one trip sometime in February to make a few necessary repairs.

Henry Jarvaugh, a Greek, committed suicide at Dikeman by jumping overboard.

Fish Prices Up Again

The Seattle fish dealers have decided to allow the fishermen to make a dollar or two for themselves. The last quotations on halibut were 7 1-2 cents per pound. The only trouble as far as the fishermen are concerned, seems to be that they are unable to get much fish. Several boats have come in of late, all reporting light catches, the fish apparently having deserted their usual haunts.

This Year's Salmon Pack

The department announces that the Alaska salmon pack for 1910 was 2,391,000 cases, the largest since 1902. Notwithstanding the enormous pack the price of salmon is better today than for years, particularly the price of the poorer grades of salmon, due a great deal to the literature issued by the government urging the use of salmon as cheap foodstuff.

Alaska codfish, fine, new, medium size, retail at 7 cents a pound in Seattle.

Miner Killed At Sulzer

Recent advises from Sulzer are to the effect that during the night of December 14, or early on the morning of the 15, Bert Wheeler, an old time miner of this region fell to his death in the main chute of the Jumbo mine, of the Alaska Industrial Company.

Wheeler went over the portage from Ketchikan on the 9th and reached the Jumbo Mine on the morning of the 11th. He was not in a condition to go to work or did not wish to, but remained in the bunk house. During the evenings he seemed to show signs of mental derangement and at about 11:30 p. m. Dec. 14th he suddenly rose from his bunk and went out. This was the last time he was seen alive. Next morning his absence was noticed and a careful search was made for him up and down the mountain from salt water to the top of the mine, but no sign of the missing man could be found.

At 10:30 p. m. Thursday evening the 15th the body was discovered in the No. 4 chute. There were about 300 tons of ore in the chute at the time and this ore had to be withdrawn before the body was discovered. It is believed Wheeler fell 200 feet vertically and that death was instantaneous.

Christmas Exercises

From the standpoint of the younger generation at least Christmas, 1910, was a complete success.

All the local Churches held special Christmas exercises, which were well attended. The different Christmas trees were loaded down with those things dear to the youngsters, and there was plenty for all, so that it were safe to say that there wasn't a youngster in town who was overlooked by Santa Claus or his Wrangell representatives.

Northern News Items

The Seattle-Sitka cable will be "duplexed" in the spring.

A new stamp mill outfit for the De Groff mine on Chichagof island was brought north on the steamship Northland.

Fairbanks held a tag day on Alaska Day, October 18, for the benefit of the public library. Six hundred dollars was realized.

The Northern Commercial company has filed an application for a patent to the ground occupied as a trading post at Fort Gibbon. The tract embraces 5.09 acres.

Dog Owners Dig Up

It will become the duty of the Ki-yi owners of the town to cough up a license fee right after the first of the month on their dogs. The license is $1.50 per year on male dogs, and $2.00 for the females. The town treasurer is the man for you to pay it to, and he will issue you a receipt for the money paid, and a tag to attach to Towser's collar.

Assessment Work Decision

A decision, handed down recently by Judge Murane of the district court for the Second judicial division, is in effect that assessment work must be completed within the calendar year for which it is to apply. That is to say that assessment work can not be started, say on December 30, and carried over and finished in the following month of the ensuing year.

The patent for the Ketchikan townsite is in the hands of the trustee, Charles Ingersol.

Repair Lincoln Rock Light

Senator Piles has introduced a bill providing for the appropriation of $100,000 for a light and fog signal at the entrance of Resurrection bay; $80,000 for a light and station at Cape Spencer; $25,000 for the improvement of the station at Lincoln rock and $7,000 to defray the traveling expenses of Gov. W. E. Clark.

Wolves Bad

Watchman Holt, of the Hollis property, near Ketchikan, while out a short distance from the camp last week stopped to examine a corner post of one of the claims, on hearing a noise behind him looked around and saw a pack of wolves confronting him. Mr. Holt had dropped his gun a few feet from where he stopped so he made a race for it and the wolves fell back when he recovered his rifle and shot one of them.

Jim Hurley arrived down from the capital city on the Cottage.

TURN OVER A NEW LEAF

With this issue of The Sentinel another year closes, and a new one 1911 confronts us. It is the wish of everyone in Wrangell to make that new year something better and more satisfactory to the town as a whole than the one now slowly dying, good though 1910 has been as compared with the past. How to bring this condition about is the vital question for us to decide.

In the first place it seems to this paper that the one thing needed above all else here in Wrangell is for us all to get together and decide on some plan of action looking to the betterment of conditions here in the future. We have no commercial body of any kind, actually in existence. We need and must have one, so that we may have some organization in which we may meet on a common level for a common purpose. Other towns have their Chambers of Commerce or their Commercial Clubs, and good results. Why can we not do the same in Wrangell? A club of this nature affording an outlet for ideas is sure to bring about results. We need some opportunity of meeting and talking matters over, and having arrived at some conclusion as the result of such discussion, we will then have the means of putting them into effect.

Think it over and then get busy;

There is a report in circulation that the Interstate Commerce Commission is going to investigate the rates charged by the Alaska-Pacific Co. It's time something of the kind was done. The other day we shipped a package to Seattle weighing in the neighborhood of twelve pounds, by express, and paid at the rate of $200.00 per ton for the privilege. And that's going some.

In the case of the town of Ketchikan, a municipal corporation, versus N. F. Zimmerman, the district court has rendered an opinion deciding against Zimmerman for the full amount with costs and disbursements. This was a case in which the town sued to collect taxes levied against the property of the defendant.

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. On the old foundation a new superstructure has been built. The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers, under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reinforced by many eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.

Big Indian Dance

Chief Shakes and Kadishan announce that they will give an old time Indian Dance at Redmen's Hall, New Years Eve, Saturday, Dec. 31. They have been preparing and rehearsing for the event for some time and will give all the old dances in costume. This will probably be the last opportunity to see the dances given under the direction of men who know. Everybody invited.

Gold discoveries rivaling in richness those of some of the best claims in the Fairbanks district, have recently been made on the third tier claims on Gold Stream. The discoveries have been made in ground that up to now has been considered practically worthless.

The news comes from Nulato that Wm. Tristo, a Montenegrin, was killed on Gaines creek by wounds from a gun in the hand of Frank Wallace, a Fairbanks barber. Tristo was beating a dog at the time the gun was accidentally discharged, and Wallace was trying to stop him.

THE thief comes prepared—prepared to take your valuables. Carries the necessary tools. Is expert in their use. One of his tools is the revolver. In plain words, he is prepared to take your life. His deadly intent and expertness makes up for his revolver's awkwardness and slowness.

You have neither expertness or deadly intent. You cannot afford to stake everything upon a wrist-straining, trigger-flinching, slow-as-molasses firearm. Settle this matter to-day for the sake of your family. Get the Savage automatic. The only gun that points straight, shoots true, fires fast, without practice. It is the only gun you can shoot straight any time you pick it up. Ten shots, one to a trigger pull. Reloads a fresh magazine of ten shots in a flash. Our free book "The Tenderfoot's Turn," by Bat Masterson tells why you point the Savage instinctively true.
